

The background of the slide is a photograph of a desk. On the desk, there is a laptop, a keyboard, and several books. A green semi-transparent rectangle is overlaid on the left side of the image, containing the title text. The title is written in a large, white, sans-serif font.

Part Time Job Impact On Student

Sanchita Singh
A361171025027

Background of the Study

- Many students take part-time jobs to support expenses and gain experience
- Part-time work can improve practical exposure and financial
- At the same time, higher work intensity may affect study time and academic performance.

Study Objectives

- To analyze the impact of part-time jobs on students.
- To examine effects on academic performance.
- To understand financial and personal benefits.
- To identify challenges like stress, fatigue, and time management.
- To present findings through an interactive dashboard

Data source & methodology

- Data collected through student survey / questionnaire.
- Variables may include: age, gender, working hours, income, CGPA/marks, stress level, attendance, and satisfaction.
- Dashboard uses KPIs, bar charts, pie charts, and comparison visuals for analysis.

Dashboard overview

- Total students surveyed
- Number / percentage of students doing part-time jobs
- Average working hours per week
- Average income earned
- Academic performance indicator
- Stress or satisfaction indicator

Major Insights from Dashboard

- Students doing part-time jobs gain financial support and real-world experience.
- Moderate work hours may be manageable, but excessive hours can reduce academic performance.
- Increased work intensity is linked with decline in CGPA in some studies.
- Students may also face stress, tiredness, and less time for study or rest.

Impact Analysis

- Academic impact:
Attendance, study time, CGPA, assignment completion.
- Financial impact:
Personal expenses support, reduced family burden, savings.
- Personal impact:
Confidence, communication skills, time management, stress.

Conclusion and

Suggestions Part-time jobs have both positive and negative effects on students.

- Positive side: income, independence, work experience, skill development
- Negative side: stress, time pressure, and possible academic decline with longer work hours.
- Recommendation: students should balance work hours with study schedule, and institutions should support working students better

A photograph of a wooden desk in a dimly lit room, likely during sunset or sunrise. The desk is cluttered with various items: a stack of papers, a white mug, a pair of glasses, a pen holder with several pens, and a desk lamp. A green semi-transparent overlay covers the left and center portions of the image, and the text "Thank you" is written in white on this overlay. The background shows a window with a view of trees and a building.

Thank you